

JAMES R. MANN WILL REMAIN IN RACE FOR HOUSE SPEAKERSHIP

Washington, Feb. 22.—Representative James R. Mann, of Chicago, today replied to reports that he intended to withdraw from the speakership race with the charge that "outside sources" hope to defeat him to gain control of legislation.

In this connection Mann mentioned Will Hays, Republican National Chairman and Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, and Penrose, Pennsylvania, all three of whom are counted among the supporters of Rep. Gillette, Massachusetts, Mann's only opponent.

Mann's utterance today was the first open direct assault by either side in the contest over house organization which will be settled at a caucus next Friday.

Mann said that while there had been attempts to dictate legislation that never in history had any outside the house attempted to openly dictate the house organization itself.

"If the republican members of the house intend to permit Mr. Hays or Senator Penrose and Lodge to dictate legislation in the next house, then of course they do not desire me for speaker," Mann said.

"During the present congress there has been considerable criticism of the president for his having dictated or attempted to dictate legislation in the house and senate.

"Much of this criticism has come from Republicans. Are the republicans to permit the republican national chairman and the republican leaders of the senate to dictate legislation in the house? I do not believe that a majority of the republican members of the house will submit to Mr. Hays and Senators Penrose and Lodge telling them what the legislative course of the next house will do.

"If I am elected speaker the republicans of the house may rest assured that I will not permit any interference from outside sources with the business of the house or with whatever legislation the house may desire to enact.

"I would be elected unless individual Mr. Hays and Senators Penrose and Lodge do not regard my candidacy with favor."

Rep. Madden, Illinois, Mann's campaign manager, today said that Mann would be elected unless individual house members go back on their pledges. At the same time Gillette adherents were claiming Gillette's election on the strength of the endorsement of the Indiana delegation and of the endorsement of twenty of the Pennsylvania delegation, only eight of whom declared for Mann late yesterday.

SENATOR REED PLANS TO CONTINUE ATTACK ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Washington, Feb. 22.—Senator Reed, Missouri, planned to continue the hostile discussion of the league of nations today.

Reed intended to emphasize the point raised yesterday by Senator Borah—that Britain and her colonial possessions, will have five or six votes in the league to the U. S. one.

He also emphasizes that of the five great powers composing the league, three are monarchies and two republics.

The Missourian expects soon to take a leading part in a country-wide campaign against the league. Other senators are considering joining in it.

WILSON MAY DELAY RETURN TO FRANCE UNTIL AFTER MCH. 5

On Board U. S. S. George Washington, Feb. 22.—President Wilson, while still planning to return to France March 5 or 6, may alter his program, it was learned today.

The principal factor that will determine his itinerary is understood to be the attitude of congress regarding the league of nations and the pending appropriations bills. He refused to discuss either, however.

Whether the President calls a special session of congress is also understood to depend on the situation at home but it now appears that a special session is unlikely before he returns from his second trip.

At the dinner to the foreign relations, committees of the house and senate, the President, it was stated, again today will explain debated questions and other details of the peace work, "some portions of which are necessarily confidential."

With the battleship North Carolina steaming close behind the George Washington to relay wireless messages to the U. S. the liner was speeding toward Boston today. Although the sea was still rough, the wind was decreasing and the weather improving generally. The George Washington, was only 1,100 miles from port and it was practically certain she would be able to land the President in Boston, around noon Monday. The President and his personal party will leave for Washington, on a special train immediately after his speech in Boston, Monday afternoon.

CLEMENCEAU IS STEADILY IMPROVING

Paris, Feb. 22.—Premier Clemenceau, wounded by an assassin, Wednesday continues to progress satisfactorily, despite a slightly higher temperature, it was announced today.

Clemenceau eats heartily and the pain of the wound is said to have virtually departed. His physicians are understood to have agreed that no attempt will be made to remove the bullet at present and that there may be no necessity for an operation later.

The premier did not go to bed last night, it was stated, but slept in an arm chair. His sleep was said to have been agitated.

Although Emile Cotin, the assassin maintains that the attack was undertaken solely on his own responsibility, the authorities continue to search for possible accomplices. They have questioned practically every known anarchist in the city and the investigation is said to have extended to other French centers.

Reports understood to have been circulated in America, that Clemenceau grappled with his assailant are utterly unfounded, according to eye-witnesses. A policeman seized Cotin immediately after the shooting and the premier's car sped on for several yards. Eye-witnesses agreed that at no time was Cotin closer than ten feet to the premier.

WOMAN PERMITTED BY LAW TO WEAR MEN'S ATTIRE, DEAD

Oswego, N. Y., Feb. 22.—Dr. Mary Walker, famous as the woman who was authorized by congress to wear masculine clothes, died here last night. She was 87 years old. Death was caused by a general breakdown. She had been in failing health, and spent much time at her farm, Bunker Hill, six miles from Oswego, where she died.

Dr. Walker was noted for her habit of wearing a tall hat, frock coat, trousers, waistcoat and men's shoes. She advocated this dress reform, contending that all women should attire themselves similarly.

Dr. Walker was one of the earliest active campaigners for woman's suffrage. She was a Democrat.

In the civil war she was an assistant surgeon with rank of first lieutenant and was captured and held prisoner by the confederates until exchanged. Later she received the congressional medal of honor for bravery on the field. Early in life she married a Rome, N. Y. man. They separated soon. Thereafter Dr. Walker steadfastly refused to mention the name of her husband.

Born in Oswego, Dr. Walker graduated from Syracuse medical college in 1855 and from the University at Columbus, Ohio, two years later. She practiced medicine, lectured in all parts of the United States, and formed the habit of making annual visits to Washington, in behalf of votes for women, which she advocated in a conservative way.

Only distant relatives survive.

FRIENDS OF MEN ASSASSINATED SET OUT TO GET REVENGE

Borne, Feb. 22.—With Premier Eisner, Interior Minister Auer and Deputy Osel, of Bavaria, dead from assassins' bullets, the victims friends have begun to take revenge into their own hands, according to dispatches received from Munich today.

Deputy Autel, author of a violent press campaign against Eisner, is said to have been killed. His body was riddled with revolver bullets fired by a number of unidentified men. Several other attacks were reported to have been made on enemies of the present government.

Eisner was shot yesterday while walking in the street with his secretary, Count Arco Valley, his assailant, who formerly was an officer in the Prussian Guard, was wounded by a guard. Unconfirmed reports say he has died from his wounds.

As Eisner's assassination was announced in the Bavarian newspaper, a volley was fired from the visitors' gallery. Auer was instantly killed and Osel received wounds from which he died later. Two other officials, unnamed in the dispatch are said to have been wounded. The building is now under a heavy guard.

Miss Mildred Trumbo, and Mrs. Hoffman played a piano duet, and the Misses Lucille Johnson, Donna Johnson and Florence Smith sang a trio. The hostess served Bavarian cream, cake and tea.

GERMANY IS ABLAZE WITH REVOLUTION

London, Feb. 22.—Germany is again ablaze with revolution. The uprising has spread to Hungary.

Reports from various sources today showed that Spartacan outbreaks in the Ruhr and Rhine districts are growing more menacing that Munich is in the hands of the revolutionaries and that Budapest is endangered by an incipient revolt.

Ninety localities in the Ruhr valley are held by the Spartacans and the center is said to be getting beyond control of the government despite the fact most of the soldiers councils are co-operating with military Governor Noske.

Desperate fighting has broken out at several points in different parts of the country. Seven hundred Spartacans are said to have been killed in battles at Dorsten and Herbest. They succeeded in occupying Battrup, however. New riots occurred in Hamburg, Stettin and Gotha.

Chancellor Scheideemann, addressing the national assembly at Weimar yesterday, declared "unrelenting warfare" on the Spartacans. He said the government would employ every force to put down lawlessness. His speech was cheered by all delegates save the radicals, who hissed and booed him.

Additional reports today showed that six ministers, two minor officials and a deputy were shot. The assassin, after killing Home Minister Auer, is reported to have shouted "I'll shoot down the whole lot of you," and to have begun firing promiscuously toward the government benches.

Immediately after the shooting the military commandant in Munich announced that he would not guarantee to maintain order, as he did not have enough men at his disposal to oppose the armed Spartacans.

During the afternoon the Church bells began to ring, then the workmen marched into the city from the suburbs and fighting began. The revolutionaries were victorious everywhere.

TWO DOZEN FINE FOWLS DISAPPEAR FROM THE ROOST

Two dozen fine fowls belonging to Arthur Peterson of the Maddux road, disappeared as though by magic Thursday night, although their owner with Sheriff Funderburg and Geo. Spencer, traced the suspected thief directly home.

Hearing a commotion among the chickens, Mr. Peterson went out to investigate. He saw one or two men enter a buggy and drive rapidly away. He notified W. O. Maddux, a neighbor, who called Sheriff Funderburg, and then drove at once to Xenia, taking the sheriff back with him in his car. On the way they stopped and picked up assistant deputy sheriff George Spencer.

The buggy occupied by the thief was traced clearly from the Peterson farm to the home of a notorious family in the vicinity. The party entered the house and found the suspected thief in bed and apparently sound asleep. A pair of wet, muddy rubber boots, and a wet horse blanket lay nearby, and in the barn was the horse and buggy, both freshly mud covered, and the former bearing marks of hard driving. The boots were fitted exactly into tracks made by the marauder at the Peterson farm, and a peculiar marking on the sole was the same. The man admitted first that the boots were his, and afterward denied their ownership. No trace of the chickens could be found, and it is thought that the man had an accomplice who concealed them.

COAL DUST LODGED IN MINER'S LUNGS

Mr. Bunn tells how his cough was conquered and health restored.

"I contracted a bad cough in November, 1916. I was working in a coal mine and the doctors said the coal dust had settled in my lungs. I kept getting worse, couldn't lie down on my right side, coughed so I couldn't sleep and had constant pain in my right lung and under my shoulder blades. I coughed so hard the blood would spurt out of my nose. I soon lost 30 pounds. Finally the doctors had me change climate and I went to the Cumberland Mountains and lived out doors, but didn't improve.

"Then I came back home and started on Milks Emulsion. Thank God I did, as it did me a lot of good right from the start, loosening up the coal dust that had filled my right lung. In a few weeks my lungs were free from coal dust. I could sleep at night like a baby, had an excellent appetite and my cough left me entirely. I gained back 30 pounds in weight and went back to work in the mines completely restored to health. I am working every day and feel as good as I ever did in my life."—G. H. Bunn, 6th Ave. & No. 13th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Thousands of victims of dust filled air, in mines and factories, develop the same trouble that Mr. Bunn had. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try, so why not at least try it? It is certain to be a help, and it may do as much for you as it did for Mr. Bunn.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day. It works like magic on coughs and colds.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under the guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60¢ and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Sayre & Hemphill.

THEATERS

BIJOU

Pretty Enid Bennett is as popular here as the flowers in May, and that is why local movie patrons are delighted with the announcement of Manager Hibbert of the coming of this pretty and talented star in "Fuss and Feathers," which is at the Bijou Theater Monday.

An unusually powerful cast was selected to support the star, the players including Douglas McLean, J. P. Lockney, Charles French, Sylvia Ashton and Robert McKim. McLean is the leading man. He was recently in support of Mary Pickford in the Art-craft comedy "Johanna Enlists" and he has also appeared with Miss Bennett in several popular roles.

ORPHAN

Pretty Gladys Hulette has the leading role in the Pathe picture "Waifs" the story of a girl who wanted to pick out her own husband—and did. There is a story that is oft-repeated in real life told in the Astra production and it deals with a problem that one often has to face. Miss Hulette is supported by none other than that master-hand Creighton Hale and the support also includes J. H. Gilmore and Walter Heirs.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Jones entertained handsomely at dinner and cards Friday evening at their home on East Church street, for the pleasure of their house guest, Mrs. W. P. Stewart, of Cincinnati, the hostess's sister.

There were covers for thirty-six at line small tables, which were made attractive with baby primrose and asparagus fern in crystal holders. The place cards were in the form of miniature hatchets, and the men found their dinner partners by comparing the conundrums written on their cards with the answers to the conundrums which were written on the cards of the women guests. Dinner was served in three courses, and between each course, the men progressed.

After dinner five hundred was played. Mrs. Garver of Fremont, who is visiting Mrs. C. A. Weaver, was the only guest from out of town with the exception of the honor guest.

BUSINESS MEN SHOULD BE PRESENT AT THIS MEETING

Business and professional men of the city and country, farmers and their people interested in the new income tax law, should be impressed with the importance of attending the meeting to be held in the rooms of the Xenia Business Men's Association Monday evening at 7:30 for the purpose of having the new law explained by a representative of the state internal revenue department. The law is complicated in some of its phases and interest should be taken in becoming acquainted with it. Unless all income returns are in by the date set the rest will be looked upon as delinquents, so it is necessary for everyone to acquaint themselves with their duty in this matter before it is too late.

IT WAS A COSTLY PARTY FOR HENRY

Henry Devilbiss, white, paid dearly when he permitted George Crane, white, to bring Leona Criss, colored, to his apartments on West Main street on Sunday night, Feb. 9, according to the charge of Devilbiss made in Police Court and heard by Police Judge Smith Saturday morning.

Devilbiss alleges that Crane brought Mrs. Criss to his room Sunday night and when they left the next morning $500 which Devilbiss had had concealed in his bed, was gone also. He had both Crane and the Criss woman arrested on the charge of grand larceny in connection with the case and in Police Court Saturday morning, both pleaded not guilty, and their hearing was set for Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Bond was fixed at $500 for each of them for their appearance at that time.

Mrs. Criss was not Mrs. Criss at the time of the incident, her marriage taking place on Feb. 12. Her home was in Jamestown.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All drug lists.

XENIA PEOPLE ARE INVITED TO TAKE PART IN NOBLE WORK

The past is always important in its influence upon our lives. But the most vital time, after the present, is the future. Xenia must now prepare for the coming year in her work of social betterment.

We can not find people anywhere who are bigger hearted than Xenia people in uplifting the fallen holding up the weak, and in their love for those in need of charity. Nobly have they rallied to our neighbors, the French, the Belgians, the Syrians and to Uncle Sam. But a duty equally as great is in our own midst. If you wish to realize this fully, take a day off and make a survey of your own town. We have dozens of families living in our city in poverty and squalor, living in houses unfit for habitation. Hundreds of children who never attend Sabbath school, because they cannot look like other children. Parents who have never had your opportunities in life, but they need your influence your advice, your love. Xenia must have more friendly visitors.

Xenia is ready now to launch her campaign for funds for the Social Service League for another year's work. Be as loving and charitable to the dear little children at home as you have been to those across the seas. The League has splendid plans for this year's work. A new department has been added, that of personal workers.

If you have not already done so, visit us at our new quarters where we are most pleasantly located in the City Building. Help up to better spiritual conditions, housing conditions, and thus to carry out our slogan of 1919—"Cleaner and Purer Homes, Hygienically and Morally."

The Mother of Eight

Reared Her Family
—WITH—
SIMPLE HOME REMEDY

An American Mother Beats Them All

There are few families in which the record of Mrs. Gustave Koch, Box 24, Kewick, Keokuk County, Iowa, has been surpassed. Not in the fact that she raised a family of eight is her story remarkable. Thousands of families are larger. The history of the Koch family is unique in that the mother, with all her loving care, planned her faith to a simple home remedy and never had a doctor for her children. Here is what she says: "Peruna has done my children good. I have a family of eight and never had a doctor, only your medicine. We all think Peruna a splendid tonic."

So far as we have learned, Peruna is the only known remedy for which such a wonderful claim can be made. Like Mrs. Koch, there are thousands upon thousands of mothers who place their entire dependence upon Peruna.

That Peruna has merited this confidence is attested by the words

IN BLOOD DISEASES

Like Scrofula, Eczema, and Many Skin Troubles.

As well as a general Spring medicine for catarrh, rheumatism, dyspepsia, Hood's Sarsaparilla is of great value to men, women, children.

It does its thorough work in these well-defined diseases by cleansing the blood, on the pure, healthy condition of which depend the vigor and tone of the whole system.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is equally successful in the treatment of troubles that are not so well defined—cases of a low or run-down condition or general debility, loss of appetite and that tired feeling, or cases in which we see now very plainly after-effects of the worry and anxiety caused by the world war and the debility following the grip, influenza and fevers. In all such ailments it has accomplished a wonderful amount of good.

WEAKNESS REMAINS LONG AFTER Influenza

Reports Show That Strength, Energy and Ambition Return Very Slowly to Grippe Patients.

After an attack of influenza, doctors advise that nature be assisted in its building-up process by the use of a good tonic—one that will not only put strength and endurance into the body, but will also help to build up and strengthen the run-down cells of the brain.

One of the most highly recommended remedies to put energy into both body and brain is Bio-feren—your physician knows the formula—it is printed below.

There's iron in Bio-feren—the kind of iron that makes red blood corpuscles and creates vigor. There is lecithin also; probably the best brain invigorator known to science. Then there is good old reliable gaitan, that brings back your lagging appetite.

There are other ingredients that help to promote good health, as you can see by reading this formula, not forgetting kelp, that great agent that puts the power of endurance into weak people.

Taken altogether Bio-feren is a splendid active tonic that will greatly help any weak, run-down person to regain normal strength, energy, ambition and endurance.

Bio-feren is sold by Sayre & Hemphill, Xenia, Ohio, and all reliable druggists, and is inexpensive. For weakness after influenza patients are advised to take two tablets after each meal and one at bed time—seven a day, until health, strength and vigor are fully restored.

It will not fail to help you and if for any reason you are dissatisfied with results your druggist is authorized to return your money upon request—without any red tape of any kind.

Note to physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin, Calcium Glycero-phosphate, Iron Perchlorate, Manganese, Peptonate, Ext. Ginseng, Volcanic Powdered Gentian, Phenolphthalein, Oleoresin Capsicum, Kelp.

SHALL WE SHOOT THE PRESIDENT IN THE BACK AS HE STANDS BEFORE THE WORLD IN THE CAUSE OF HUMANITY?

Senatorial reticence about discussing the proposed constitution of the league of nations did not last long. In spite of President Wilson's cabled request that the congressional debate shall await his interpretation and explanation of the document, the floodgates of discussion have been opened, and the expressions of opinion are not confined to the Senators on the Republican side of the chamber.

There has been insufficient time for a study of all its provisions and of their implications, direct and remote, to warrant a final judgment on its details. Many of the judgments already uttered bear every evidence of haste.

The American Senate, knows that the President has fought for two long months to get the tightest, mightiest and most effective league of nations he could achieve. He has not only done his best, but he has done the best possible under existing conditions. The league has the weapons necessary to blot war from off the earth. It is fully as good as its members are ready and willing to act upon when the time comes; and everybody knows that there is no means of making them so act if they are unwilling.

Seldom in the history of the world has a Senate—the very word means calm, serenity and wisdom—faced so grave and far-reaching a responsibility as that which now confronts the Senate of the United States. We should be accused of employing the language of exaggeration if we said that, according to reports from Washington, the Senators are about to lay hands upon the ark of the covenant; but it is nevertheless the truth that the "covenant" upon which they are about to lay hands carries just about all the hopes of the human race for relief from the hideous nightmare of war. It has its imperfections and it falls short of the golden dreams of many, but it is absolutely and beyond dispute the best that can be got today as a covenanted barrier against war; and, if it is kicked to pieces, there will be nothing between despairing humanity and the recurrent horrors of wars without end.

Among the wise men of this nation we suppose none stand higher in the esteem of his fellow citizens than Ex-President William Howard Taft. He filled with distinguished honor to himself and to his country the highest position in the gift of his fellow citizens. No youth in America can aspire to higher distinction.

And since Mr. Taft's retirement from the Presidency he has occupied a position the like of which is accorded to only persons of the most distinguished ability—that of Professor of Law at Yale University, where his duty is to deliver four lectures per week on the Federal Constitution of this nation; was President of the American Red Cross, 1906 to 1913; President American Bar Association, 1913. We might say no man in the nation more full of distinguished honors than William H. Taft.

And this, our only living Ex-President of the United States, has given more attention, perhaps, than any other living man to this particular subject; in fact is the President of what is known in this country as our own unofficial "League to Enforce Peace," in the interest of which he has traveled and made addresses. He has warmly endorsed President Wilson's efforts in this whole matter.

Now this trusted leader of the party which habitually opposes President Wilson, says that "it is a real league" and has clinging and clinging provisions" and should be supported. He pointedly urges the Senate to give it "unanimous support." This is the attitude of a great American, whose term in the White House has endowed him with a steady sense of responsibility and whose long experience in national and international affairs has taught him that, in shooting partisan popguns at a delicately poised international creation like this, we may be like boys playing football with dynamite!

THE REAL VOICE OF AMERICA.

It is well that the organized business men of America have at last got into the game of plugging for a peace settlement calculated to settle something. There is widespread satisfaction in the cablegram sent to President Wilson by President Wheeler of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, assuring him that "American business records itself unqualifiedly in favor of such an international association as you have been advocating."

President Wheeler very properly reminds the President and the world in general of the decisive vote taken on this subject by his organization in December, 1915.

A formal questionnaire was submitted to all the chambers of commerce in the country, representing all business and professional interests and including in their membership hundreds of thousands of business and professional men. Of the local chambers and boards registering their opinion, 753 voted for an international court with authority to decide international disputes, to only 21 against it. There was a vote of 556 to 157 in favor of using economic force to back the decisions of such a tribunal. There was a vote of 452 to 249 in favor of compelling acquiescence by the use of military force—the policy urged by Mr. Taft's plan. The local chambers voted 768 to 13 in favor of the United States taking the initiative in establishing regular and frequent conferences to regulate international law.

All of these ideas enter fundamentally into the League of Nations program now being worked out in Paris, at the instigation of the United States and with the co-operation of the best statesmanship of Europe. As President Wheeler says: "It is reasonable to assume that a vote taken today would, in the light of larger experience and deeper thought upon this subject, be productive of even larger majorities." The masses of people everywhere are nearly unanimous as to the general purpose of the League.

There is danger that foreign nations may mistake the utterances of a few erratic men in the United States senate as representative of America. Such statements as that of the Federal Chamber of Commerce are calculated to prevent any such lamentable mistake, and may even have a salutary effect on the misrepresentative senators.

BAB IS ANXIOUS BECAUSE NEIL IS DRINKING

CHAPTER XVIII.

I did not relish the idea of entertaining business people in my home, but as in all else, if Neil thought it necessary that was enough for me. But I confess I was astonished one night when he remarked quite casually:

"I have asked a couple of western oil men up to dinner tomorrow night. Have things bang-up. I met Blanche Orton on my way up-town. She said she'd come over and help you entertain them."

"Is Mr. Orton coming?" I asked the question as carelessly as I could. I had no intention to let Neil know that a feeling of jealousy against Blanche Orton had been aroused; or that I objected to having her invited. But I was a little surprised at his reply:

"No—he scarcely ever goes out, you know. And Blanche said he was not as well as usual. It must be jolly annoying to be married to a man who is always ailing."

So Blanche Orton was coming alone. Surely Neil might have consulted me before inviting her. Once I had heard a man call her: "A man eater," of course he had said it jokingly, but now the epithet recurred to me.

"I wish you had asked me first—before you invited her."

"Too late now. What's the matter with Blanche? Jealous of her and want to entertain both men yourself? You women are beyond me. She is always gay and dresses stunningly. One would think you would be delighted that I was thoughtful enough to ask her."

"I'm sorry you asked her, all the same. Why didn't you invite Lorraine Morton instead? She's single."

"Lorraine's all right. Have her too, if you like. But when it comes to entertaining people who count in a business way, there is no one like Blanche. She's a great little pusher for a man."

"But Neil, you wouldn't ask another woman than your wife to help you in a business affair?" I asked, astounded and puzzled at this phase of affairs. "I'll ask Lorraine, but I have a hazy impression that she said something about having a date for tomorrow night."

As I feared, Lorraine had an engagement. But I had learned to accept the unexpected where Neil was concerned, so I made my arrangements for the dinner for five.

Neil came home early. I was in the dining room looking after the decoration for the table when he came in. He called Tonko, the butler, and ordered what he wanted to drink cooled. I could not help a gesture of discouragement. That was another thing which had come with Neil's financial success—the constant need of stimulant.

The dinner was a jolly affair for Blanche, who looked absolutely charming, tho in almost maddeningly immodest décolleté. At first I was embarrassed, accustomed as I was by that time to the extreme in dress. But I knew I also looked well, and putting all uncomfortable thoughts away, I exerted myself to entertain my husband's guests. I would not allow Mrs. Orton to monopolize them; or to put me in the background.

Neil had cocktails served, and Blanche Orton drank hers and then begged for another one. She drank a good deal of wine too, as did Neil. Blanche fairly scintillated, but most of her conversation was directed at Neil, her repartee flung at him, while I was left to entertain the two business men.

They were plain sort of men, one of them especially. Rather heavy and silent. One could easily see that, even tho they were very rich men—Neil had told me they were millionaires—that private home dinners were not an everyday affair with them.

I finally spoke of the business—oil. They could talk about that and talk in so interesting a fashion that I almost forgot to watch Neil and Blanche, or to pay any attention to their conversation.

But just before we rose from the table, while liquors were being served, I heard her say:

"If people had a little more sense they never would mistake my unconventional, which I shall never give up, for common, vulgar silliness. To be conventional myself, or be with people who are, bores me to extinction."

I realized perfectly that Blanche Orton would not allow herself to be bored, and that consequently Neil must interest her or she would not devote her time to him. But what I could not understand was his feeling that, tho married, he could keep up the same friendship with her that had existed before his marriage.

To Be Continued.

GRANGE NOTES

Beaver and Charity Granges are both taking on new life, each planning to take in a large class in the near future.

The Grange slogan on taxation is "Pay Your Share of Taxes, Go to Jail, or Get Out of Ohio."

Juvenile Deputy, Mrs. Kuriger, completed the organization of a new Juvenile Grange at Yellow Springs last Friday evening. This Grange starts with 24 charter members and will soon double its membership. Juvenile Granges will soon be organized at Xenia and Caesarcreek.

The new Grange at Yellow Springs feels very proud of the fact that it is the largest Grange ever organized in Ohio, starting with 250 charter members. Their greatest difficulty at present is to find a hall large enough to meet in and are meeting in the opera house at present. At the last meeting sentiment was strong for building a new hall of their own and this may be done the coming year.

As a means of arousing the Granges to the importance of their Order the State Grange has designated the last week of February as Grange Rally Week. This will begin on February 22nd and all state officers, deputies and special organizers are expected to devote as much time as possible to Grange work and every member in Ohio is expected to ask some one to join the Grange during this time.

State Lecturer Harry Caton will spend two days in Greene County, February 26 and 27, helping county deputy, S. H. Shawhan. Wednesday afternoon at 1:00 p. m. Mr. Caton will speak to the new Grange at Yellow Springs and at 7:30 at Caesarcreek Grange. Thursday will probably be spent in the eastern part of the county. Mr. Caton is one of the best Grange workers in Ohio and every member of the Grange in Greene county should try to hear him.

There is much interest being manifested in the coming masquerade dance to be given by the Elks in their spacious new home, February 27th. Invitations for the affair have just been issued.

The dance will be the first masquerade affair that has been given here for a long time, and it is for this fact that the new dance is creating so much interest. The invitations read: "Yourself and ladies are cordially invited to attend the informal dance and card party given by Xenia Lodge of Elks at their club rooms, Second and Whiteman street, on the evening of February 27, 1919, at 8 o'clock. This dance will be a masquerade, and if you want to enjoy a good time and have lots of fun come masked. $1.00 per couple. Refreshments. Music by Mullin's orchestra of Dayton. Present this invitation at the floor for admission—not transferrable. Jacob Kany, Stephen G. Phillips, C. L. John, Committee."

YOU KNOW, BUT SOMETIMES FORGET!

Everybody knows an imitation is never so good as the genuine article. Foley's Honey and Tar stands at the top of the list of family remedies for colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchial and gripe coughs. W. L. Anglin, Antioch, La., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar 15 years. It is the best." Sayre & Hemphill, adv.

The Nutrition of Wheat and Barley is of especial value during the colder days of winter. For your cereal food think of—

Grape-Nuts

Nothing more appetizing among ready-cooked grain foods—the cereal to use because of its wheat & barley content & its richness in sugar.

Grape-Nuts needs no sweetening.

THREE PRETTY AFFAIRS GIVEN

Three pretty social affairs were given this week by Miss Bernice Wolford, at her home in Cedarville. Wednesday evening and Thursday afternoon and evening her home was opened, each time to a merry little party of twelve. The young women played pool, flinch and rook, and after the games the hostess served refreshments.

ONLY ONE OF THE BAND MEMBERS WAS NOT THERE

Only one of the soldier lads who before the war were members of the Cedarville Band, was not present at the dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Duffield, of Cedarville, Thursday night, which preceded a reorganization meeting of the organization. The absent member was Walter Boase, who is in the army of occupation. The dinner was in honor of Fred and Wallace Irvin and Clarence Sparrow, who were recently discharged from the army, and other men recently returned from overseas, who were among the guests were Herman Randall, Frank Shroades and Clarence Huffman, of Covington, Ky., who is the guest of Hugh Grindle.

There were covers for 32; 21 were members or former members of the band. Dinner was served in three courses at two tables, each of which had a centerpiece formed of flags. Following dinner the band held a meeting in its hall, and reorganized by electing J. M. Duffield, manager, and Wallace Irvin, leader. He will be assisted by his brother, Fred Irvin. The band will be composed of 14 pieces.

SCHOOL PLAY IS VOTED A SUCCESS BY BIG AUDIENCE

Interesting situations, clever lines and delightful little romances with well-chosen characters in the leads, made the Junior Class Play "The End of the Rainbow," the first of its kind ever given by the High School, a huge success.

A packed audience greeted the players, and it was not disappointed in the presentation in the least. The plot was laid in a college town and the whole of the three acts given represented the time from a date shortly after the start of the school year, until the culmination of the football season with a victory for the home team. Four pairs of lovers helped weave the story, which after the manner of most stories, comes out happily in the end.

The leading roles were well chosen and the parts were carried in excellent manner. Particularly noteworthy parts taken by Miss Thelma Flannery, Miss Alice Foley, Miss Thelma Powell, Arthur Bales and Allen Kestle. Arthur Bales, as Stanley Palmer, erstwhile Hawkins, the butler, had exceedingly clever lines, which he carried exceptionally well. Lawrence Riddell made a dignified lawyer, while Miss Gladys Shadrach was his charming ward and later his fiancée. Miss Alice Foley as "the Imp," gave a particularly good characterization of this fun-making person. Others in the cast conducted their parts well, reflecting the capable direction of Miss Janet McBane.

Those in the cast were: Lawrence Riddell as Robert Preston; Walker Taylor, as Douglas Brown; Allen Kestle, as Dick Preston; Arthur Bales, as Stanley Palmer; Richard Sayre, as Ted Whitney; Henry Flynn, as Jack Austin; Gladys Shadrach, as Marion Dayton; Pauline McFadden, as Nellie Preston; Margaret Prugh, as Louise Ross; Thelma Flannery, as Phyllis Lane; Lois Benbow, as Kathleen Knox; Alice Foley, as the Imp; Mary Fuller, as Emily Elliott; Elizabeth Dice as Jane, the maid; Margaret Ballantyne, as Mrs. Brown; Dorothy Chambliss, as Polly Price; Eva Arnold, as Elsa Ernest; Imogene Mullen, as Marjorie Arnold; Mildred Highley, as Marie Swift and Thelma Powell, as Mary Brown.

Miss Janet McBane was director. Myron Lane advertising manager, Arthur Bales, business manager, Julian Keyes and George Pillsbury, stage managers, and Faith Rankin, chairman of decorating committee.

SIXTY-FIVE ARE PRESENT AT MEETING OF SEWING CLUB

Members of the Rebekah Lodge Sewing Club entertained at the home of Mrs. Walter Shoemaker, on East Church street Friday evening, and about sixty-five guests enjoyed the evening. The hostesses were Mrs. Shoemaker, Mrs. Nonnie Jones, Mrs. John Brannan, Mrs. Phillip LaBelle and Mrs. E. J. Moahl.

The arrangements for the evening were in keeping with Washington's Birthday, which is celebrated Saturday. Flags and the national colors were used to decorate, and several games played were significant of the holiday. The same idea was carried out in the refreshments, of ice cream with red cherries, red and white cakes. The mints served were red and white.

The final meeting of Tabor Lodge, I. O. O. F., which will be consolidated with Xenia Lodge, was held Friday night, and following the meeting, most of the men who had been in attendance, joined the women of the auxiliary society at the Shoemaker home.

A GOOD WAY TO SAVE DOCTOR BILLS.

Everyone is Interested in This and in a Few Words We Will Explain How to do it.

The very first question the doctor asks you is "How is your stomach?" He knows that half the ordinary human ills are traceable to the stomach; that's why he goes to the seat of the trouble to find the cause of your ailment. If your stomach hurts; if food sours; if you bloat or feel miserable take Pepsinco. It is a safe and harmless remedy and very efficient. No harm can come from it and it may be the remedy you need.

Pepsinco acts quickly and is safe and sure. It digests perfectly all that is eaten. The stomach is a peculiar organ. It will not allow an overdoing. It cries out when it is worked too hard. It sends a wireless for help and it behooves every one to watch for the sign.

Try Pepsinco, no matter how you feel and you will realize it's value. Fully guaranteed by your druggist.
